HKTB Welcomes the Government's Announcement for Removing Amber Code Which Marks the Opening of the Tourism Doors of Hong Kong

Dr Pang Yiu-kai, Chairman of Hong Kong Tourism Board (HKTB), expressed warm welcomes towards the Government's announcement today (13 December) of removing the amber code for inbound visitors starting from tomorrow (14 December), "The new arrangements marks the opening of the tourism doors of Hong Kong. Upon fulfilling the vaccination and COVID-19 test requirements, visitors can now enjoy Hong Kong's full range of diverse and exciting experiences, including our culinary offerings. We expect that the new measures will stimulate travellers interests in visiting Hong Kong."

Dr Pang continued, "HKTB is working tirelessly and will soon roll out large-scale promotional campaigns to demonstrate Hong Kong's eagerness in welcoming back visitors. We will also actively attract visitors to Hong Kong. Details will be announced soon."
